City OK's Audit For Fiscal Year

Coppini Academy Exhibit Opens at Museum Saturday

An exhibition of 90 paintings by members of the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts of San Antonio will go on display in the Hall of Fine Arts at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum here Saturday.

About a dozen of the exhibiting artists are expected for a reception, to which the public is invited, Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m., according to C. Boone McClure, director of the museum.

Among special guests Sunday will be Dr. Walkdine Tauch, sponsor of the academy and one of the state's best known sculptors, and Erwin O. Wesp, director of the Coppini Art Gallery.

The exhibit will include oils and water colors in portraits, landscapes, still life, sea scapes, and others. All except the portraits will also be on sale, according to McClure. This will mark the thrid year the Coppini group has exhibited at the Panhandle-Plains Museum.

One member of the Coppini Academy is well known to West Texas art fanciers. She is Olive Vandruff Bugbee of Clarendon, who along with her husband, Harold Bugbee, currently is exhibiting works in the museum's gallery. Three of her works will be shown in the new exhibit, including "Bob White in Gold," "Palo Duro Turkeys," and "Post Oaks and Turkeys."

Razing to End At Little League

If anyone has anything to say to Little League umpires and managers, it should be a word of thanks, according to Charley Foster, president of the league.

Foster said there has been too much interference with umpires and managers during the games and afterwards.

"We would like to see an end to this," he said. "However, if anyone chooses to continue to raze umpires or managers, he will be entitled to private consultation with the law."

Foster said the league is primarily a summer playground for Canyon youths.

"We are trying to teach sportsmanship, team spirit and last, baseball skill," he pointed out.

"We want to encourage attendance at the games and cheering for teams, but it can be carried too far," he added.

Foster said that last week one of the games had to be stopped due to unruly fans.

"If these people really desire to work with the program we still have openings for umpires," he concluded.

Unwanted Visitor Pays Call

An unwanted visitor paid a call at the Mrs. Sophie Snoga residence at 100 West 6th Monday evening and created havoc and confusion for a few minutes.

Darlene Bednorz was sitting by the front door when she heard a noise similar to running water. She asked Mrs. Snoga if there was any water on and after checking Mrs. Snoga started out the front door.

Just as she got through the door she saw a rattlesnake lying a few feet away.

John Bewley came to the rescue and killed the snake with a shovel.

Peggy Hales Takes $100 Scholarship

Peggy Sue Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe V. Hales, Route 1, has been awarded a $100 scholarship to attend West Texas State College for the 1961-62 session.

Miss Hales, a 1961 graduate of Canyon High School, was selected for the award by a scholarship committee, composed of WT faculty members, according to Dean Walter H. Juniper.

Planning to major in Journalism at WT, Miss Hales edited both "Soaring Wings," CHS yearbook, and "The Eagle's Tale," CHS newspaper, during her senior year.

Commissioners Hold 2-Day Tax Equalization Session

County commissioners have worked two days this week on tax equalization following changes in tax values made by the county tax assessor-collector's office.

Approximately 10 persons appeared at Monday's session in order to straighten out values on real estate and personal property.

Wednesday was set aside for industrial and utility property.

Bill Money, tax assessor-collector, said that there has been some misunderstandings due to his office having inadequate records.

"Some of the farmers who have turned cultivated land back to grass have failed to notify us and it is impossible for us to know these things," he said.

Money said his office will gladly change any such mistakes.

This year grass land has been valued at approximately $35, dry cultivated land at about $55 and irrigated land higher, depending on number and size of irrigation wells.

The percentage of tax has been reduced to 15 per cent for all property. Last year percentage went as high as 25 per cent on some property.

At the first of the years commissioners considered hiring a professional appraisor but decided to leave the task to Money. He completed the job several weeks ago.

Motel Set For City

A 30-unit motor hotel for Canyon seemed a certainty Wednesday of this week.

"We're just one inch away from having everything ready," declared Warren Neal, Fort Worth, promoter of the project.

Mr. Neal said the buildings for the new facility will be of masonry-type construction and of contemporary style. It will feature a heated swimming pool, restaurant with private dining facilities and other accomodations.

The motor hotel will be located on Highway 87 just south of Canyon. Construction is expected to get under way in about 90 days, Neal reported.

WT to Take Class Break

Classes will let out at the close of regular periods Friday and resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Students will wind up the first summer term July 7 with final examinations, and registration for the second term will be held July 11. The second term closes with final exams and summer convocation Aug. 18.

Jaycee Fish Winners Told

Small fry fishers caught small fry fish and larger Saturday as the annual Jaycee fish rodeo finally was unreeled after being delayed twice by weather.

Kenny Crossland took big fish honors in the 10 to 14 age group. He caught an 8 1/2-inch catfish. Eva Frank caught the biggest perch in that division, a 7 3/4-inch whopper.

Billy Dan Crossland was first in number of fish caught with an even dozen. Others who placed in the order named are Jerry Reno, Mary Ann Frank, Curtis Fowler, Eva Frank, Kenneth Dowse and James Risner.

In the age group from 3 to 9 years old Loren Fulton caught the largest perch, a 7 1/2-inch fish and Gary Tucek caught the largest catfish, 7 1/4-inches in length.

Loren Fulton caught the most fish and Richard Fulton was second. Vince Wirt was third, Thad Harrison, Jimmy Newberry and Jeff Carlisle.

Approximately 35 youngsters participated. Prizes were contributed by various Canyon business houses. Bait was furnished by John A. Williams. Helping the Jaycees were Game Wardens Woody Pond and Stanley McDonough.

Captain O'Donald Completes School

Army captain, Robert E. O'Donald, son of Ernest E. O'Donald of Canyon, completed the 14-week aircraft maintenance officer course at Fort Eustis, Virginia, June 15.

He entered the army in January, 1954 and was last stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

He is a 1950 graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State College.

NEW FLAG at the Little League park was donated by Mrs. Tony Rossi. It was her husband's flag. Rossi was very active with youth baseball here in years past. He died suddenly last fall. His son, David Rossi, is shown raising the flag.

One Wreck Reported In City Limits During June

Only one reportable car accident has occurred in Canyon so far this month, according to the city police department.

This accident happened Sunday on U.S. 87 just north of 9th Avenue at 5:50 p.m.

It involved a 1953 Cadillac driven by Jeannie C. Pettigrew of Canyon and a 1954 Okdsmobile driven by Nancy Kay Breitling, also of Canyon.

According to investigating officer, Roy Hancock, the Cadallic was attempting to turn in to a drive-in and had to stop in the lane of traffic due to a car directly ahead. The Oldsmobile struck it from the rear.

Total damages were estimated at $350.

Group to Study Service Rates

City commissioners approved and accepted an audit of city books made by an Amarillo accountant at their regular meeting Monday night.

According to the audit the city has $170,000.33 on deposit as of March 31.

Another $20,304.80 was due on accounts receivable. Delinquent taxes total $31,124.29.

Contracts payable at the end of the fiscal year totaled $26,903.50. Constomers' security deposits totaled $9,395.86 and bonded indebtedness totaled $1,021,000.

In presenting the audit the accountant told commissioners that Canyon has an excellent record on delinquent tax collections. He also said that the books kept at city hall are in perfect order.

In other business commissioners gave A.W. Lair, city attorney, a proposed water-sewer extension ordinance. The ordinance was drawn up by Bill McMorries, city engineer, and given to Lair for further study.

Final action on the ordinance may be taken at the next regular commissioners' session.

A five-man citizens' committee to study water rates and allied services charges was named.

On the committee are Charles Donnell, Levi Cole, Virgil Henson, Paul Lindsey and H. R. Fulton.

Commissioners passed a resolution stating that the city will pave only that area encompassed by street intersections. This was done to clarify city policy on paving.

A request of Mrs. C.B. Erwin for a street light at the intersection of 27th Street and 9th Avenue was tabled until a study of city illumination is prepared by Southwestern Public Service.

Marvin Springer, planning consultant from Dallas, was scheduled to appear at the meeting but was unable to attend due to sickness.

Little League Needs $1,200

Charley Foster, president of Little League has sent letters to parents of participating players this week in an effort to raise a needed $1,200.

"We are enjoying a great season this year, but in order to be able to complete our program we will need $1,200 for equipment and operational expenses," he said.

He added that anyone desiring to make a contribution can mail a check to the First National Bank or to him at 1509 3rd Avenue.

Upon completion of the final phase of training, the new Marines reported to Camp Pendleton, California, for further training.

Father Returns From Price

Father James, rector of St. Ann's Catholic Church, has returned from the annual pre-seminary week at Price College in Amarillo. During this week, young men who have completed high school, and are considering entering a seminary, are exposed to life and subjects that are a part of study for the priesthood. Father James was Prefect during the week and aided in music classes.

In addition, Father James is teaching three classes a week at the Migrant Labor Camp in Hereford. He is instructing young ladies who will work with the transient laborers. The classes consist of a course entitled "The Life of Christ" and another "The Spiritual Life."

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

Critics of our public schools continue to complain that frills are displacing fundamentals. What the frills are varies widely with individual judgments. Some say music and art and speech are frills. Others call them "musts." Not too long ago one heard it said that home economics ought to be learned in mother's kitchen, agriculture on Dad's farm, and manual training under an apprentice system. Athletics has been under the hammer for 50 years, but how long do you think a superintendent would last if he recommended its abolition? Twenty-five years ago newspapers and others were ridiculing algebra, expecially for girls. Today we are demanding from the housetops more and more and better mathematics for everybody. Poor old science has been so badly neglected that Russia is about to beat us to the moon. From all directions comes the order to the schools, "Poor more money into laboratories and scientific research. If we don't Russia is going to whip our pants off."

But getting back to fundamentals, let's look a minute at one that they say is badly neglected--reading. I used to say it myself. And how many times have I heard college Profs say "The kids can't read"?

Let us grant that there are many who can't. There are others who don't. But if we look at the total picture we find that the school's failure in teaching reading is not as serious as critics would have us believe. What's my proof? Circumstantial, I admit; but convincing.

Take the printing business, for example. I dare say that there are more books (text books excluded), magazines, newspapers, pamphlets, etc. printed in this country than in all Europe combined--possibly in the whole world. Publication is truly big business here; and it is big because the people buy its products; and the people buy its products because they want to read. They don't clutter up living rooms, breakfast rooms, bedrooms, libraries, etc, with all kinds of reading matter for decorative purposes.

Who is responsible for this tremendous reading matter demand? There is only one answer--our schools.

It there be a legitimate criticism of the schools in connection with the teaching of reading it might be found in the quality of what is read. Reading tastes are not on as high level as we could wish.

Yet, I'm inclined to believe that the schools are very little to blame at this point. Such agencies as movies, TV, radio, comics, salacious literature distributed through news-stands, and the almost constant flow of near nude pictures and evil implications in certain lines of commercial advertising exert a tremendous influence upon reading tastes at all age levels.

So if you are not satisfied with the reading tastes of your children it might be well to look elsewhere than the public school for the blame.

By and large, our public schools are doing far the best job among all our governmental agencies, unless it is F.B.I.

One of the latest stories around town is about an alleged telegram from Arkansas' Governor Faubus to President Kennedy: "Have 91 freedom riders in jail. Send two tractors."

Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce manager, says there is a 200-bed hospital stored at the college.

This is a part of a Civil Defense program and many cities throughout the nation have similar emergency hospitals in storage.

But Roland said that apparently no one knows how to set up the equipment.

Dr. Charles Nester's suggestion of a trial run sounds like a good idea.

In reading a daily paper the other day I came across a statement made by one of President Kennedy's peace corps volunteers:

"The goal is to show the people what a typical American is. They have seen tourists and soldiers. It now is time to see a typical American."

I hadn't really thought about soldiers and tourists not being typical Americans.

Seems strange to me that these young "ambassadors" take such a dim view of Americans.

These two classifications, tourists and soldiers, just about include the whole country. Maybe the President should screen these peace workers more closely. They may not be so "typical."

Work along the west side of the square is progressing rapidly. Warren's new front will be finished sometime this week, Bernard Warren is speculating.

And Francis Shell is still expecting to open for business August 1.

Charley Foster, president of Little League, is perturbed by some of the grand stand sportsmanship displayed at the games. He points out that the summer program is to develop sportsmanship, ability to get along with others and last, baseball skills.

He also said that there is still a need for umpires and if some of the bench warming experts have such a high regard for their skills, they can still volunteer their services.

One young critic called last week, with Mom's prompting, and pointed out that the horned toad is not a frog--as stated in the cutline on page one. He's right. It's some kind of lizard but don't ever stress that point with a Texas Christian University graduate.

ADULT RECREATION

Dave Lipscomb wants to organize a softball league in Canyon.

We think such a summer recreational program for adults is an excellent idea. Most of the facilities are available and the league would be of very little further expense.

Dave points out that Amarillo had 75 softball teams and many men are waiting for a chance to play. He believes it would be possible to organize at least ten teams here for a league.

The Kiwanis Club, Jaycees and Coopers already have teams or are in the process of organizing. Interest in baseball and softball is high in Canyon.

Anyone interested in participating should call Lipscomb at OL5-4572.

It's a fine idea, Dave. We hope you get some support.

Socialized medicine?

We've had it for at least 20 years and with the warmest blessings from the American Medical Association. Tax payers right here in Randall County are paying for socialized medicine on a scale that is impressive.

Northwest Texas Hospital is the case in point. It belongs to an Amarillo Hospital District the boundaries of which are co-existant with those of the city of Amarillo.

The city commission appoints a seven-person board of managers who serve without pay and operate the hospital. Tax payers of the district pay a special 16-cent levy to retire bonded indebtedness and to pay for treatment of the indigent. As of October, 1961, the district will owe $847,000.00 which is scheduled to pay out in 1967.

Doctors using the hospital for their patients furnish very little of their equipment. Hand instruments are about the only equipment they do furnish. The remainder is furnished by the people of the hospital district.

Isn't this a form of socialized medicine?

The Texas Press Association summer convention which we attended last week end in Dallas voted to ask the Post Office Department to make a cost study with an eye to adjusting postal rates so each of mail pays its way.

Texas newspaper people have voted their willingness to forego their mailing advantages in order to put the Post Office Department on a paying basis. We voted for the resolution with gusto.

We talked with a group of wire service newsmen last week end. Many of them expect war within the next few months---possibly by the first of the year.

They say it just could turn into the thermonuclear holocaust which we have feared for the past generation. A lot depends on our show of strength within the next few weeks.

If war comes, it probably will be a result of miscalculation on the part of Krushchev.

If we were to blockade Cuba and recall our nationals home from Europe we just might convince the Russian leader that we are ready to fight. Only by being absolutely ready to go for broke can we save the peace.

Time is ticking away and we are down to what well could be the twilight hours of civilization. We hope Mr. Kennedy has nothing more seriously wrong with his back than a slipped disc. If we ever needed a leader with a strong backbone, it is now.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by JOHN BRAZZIL

Thrips are damaging the cotton in Randall County. This tiny, rapidly moving, sucking insect is ragging the leaves and causing serious damage to the young cotton. Reports from all over the Plains cotton area indicate that the damage is heavy. Thrips thrive on the cool damp weather that has prevailed here for the past few weeks.

Control measures are effective and necessary if the cotton is to survive and make normal growth. Several good insecticides are available to use as a control. They may be applied with a ground rig or by aerial application. If an airplane is used the dosage should be increased by 50 per cent. A repeat application should be made in seven days.

A printed guide to use for all cotton insect control is available at my office in the courthouse.

Some wheat still is left in the fields. The timely showers has made harvesting erratic. Irrigated fields in the northwest portion of the county were the last to mature.

Meredith Warren has entered the Warren beef cattle herd in the American Beef performance Registery. The registered cattle in this herd will be evaluated on quality and performance. The weaning weights on the calves will be kept and they will be graded for quality. By doing this calves from cows and bulls possessing good gaining ability and desirable conformation can be kept for herd replacement. Eventually the bulls will be entered in performance feed tests and as the program grows steers may be slaughtered and evaluated for lean cuts, quality, dressing percentage, and gain and feed efficiency.

Sgt. John Stritzel Ends Army Career Here Friday

Friday, June 30th marks the conclusion of 20 years service in the United States Army for Sgt. John R. Stritzel, 2520 5th Avenue in Canyon.

Sgt. Stritzel first entered in the Army in 1937 at Ft. Sheridan, Illinois. When the United States entered the World War II, Sgt. Stritzel was sent to mass with thousands of other troops in England, preparing for an invasion of the European continent. He was on the Normandy beaches and fought his way through France until he was captured by the Germans at Metz.

Taken to a POW Camp at Stalag 3C in Kustrine, Germany, Sgt. Stritzel remained a prisoner until he was liberated by the Allied Armies. At this time the war was still in progress and there was no effective transportation that would enable Stritzel and four other friends of his to rejoin their outfits--so they walked out.

These five men went first to Poland then to Odessa, Russia, where they hitched a ride on a boat which took them to Port Said, Egypt. From there they were able to get to Naples, Italy from where they were able to find the outfits to which they belonged. Sgt. Stritzel remained in the European Theater of Operations for four years.

With the end of the war, Sgt. Stritzel got out of the Army and married Kay Walsh in Springfield, Illinois, in September of 1945. They remained civilians for four years. Giving in to their love of travelling, they decided to re-enter the service in 1949, and have been an Army family from that time until now. Their most un-happy time was that spent during the Korean War when Sgt. Stritzel was away for sixteen months.

The Stritzel family says that they will miss many features of Army life that they have loved, such as living abroad where you learn to understand other peoples and appreciate our way of life even more. Both Sgt. and Mrs. Stritzel feel that the lessons learned in living the world over, will continue to make their lives richer.

On recount, the Stritzels figured that some or all of the family have been in nearly all of the states of the Union, including Alaska, and in Iceland, Ireland, Scotland, England, France, Poland, Russia, Egypt, Italy, Germany, Japan and Okinawa. However, the whole family agrees that of all the places they have ever lived, Canyon is the place they want to live the most, so this will be home.

Answering the question of why they chose Canyon, Sgt. Stritzel had this to say:

"We feel that the schools of Canyon ar superior and that the college being here gives our children opportunities that they would not have elsewhere. Here I can enjoy my hobbies of fishing and baseball. Three of my five sons play on Babe Ruth or Little League Teams. So you see, we already feel that our roots are down here, and besides our only daughter was born in Canyon and that alone would make the town special for us."

Tulia Swim Contest Saturday

Area swimmers are invited to participate in the 28 events for boys and girls. Deadline for entries is Saturdwy noon.

In connection with the meet, there will be a revue of high school girls representing Tulia, Happy and Kress.

BIRTHS

Pioneer Club Meets June 22

The Pioneer Club met in the home of Mrs. J.C. Dowd Thursday, June 22, with 21 members present.

A devotional was given by Mrs. Pearl Woodfin.

The members attended dressed in old fashioned clothing and bringing antiques, and the program consisted of each member telling the history of the antiques and the clothing they wore.

Following the meeting refreshments consisting of cake, ice cream, cheese and mints were served by the hostess Mrs. Dowd, and co-hostesses Mesdames Pearl Woodfin, W.T. Davis, I.M. Steen and R. D. Lowry.

The next meeting will be the annual picnic on August 24 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Davis.

Mrs. S.H. Condron has returned from Clarendon where she has attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Bourland, a pioneer resident of Clarendon.

Dr. Callarman Attends Area Business Meeting

Dr. C. C. Callarman, chairman of the School of Business at West Texas State College, has returned this past week from Albuguerque, New Mexico, where he attended a meeting of the Mountain Plains Business Education Association.

Accompanying Dr. Callarman were two graduate students, Miss Diane Dunklin who teaches Business Education at Bronte, and Charles Bank who teaches at Groom.

Dr. Callarman was presiding officer of the first general meeting of the association which includes an area from the Gulf Coast to the Canadian border, and from the Mississippi to the Rockies.

A sidelight to the trip for Dr. Callarman was the reunion with a student that received a master's degree under him at Oklahoma State University in 1940, and had gone on to teach at Marshall Oklahoma, where Dr. Callarman held his first teaching job. Present also, were two other former students that had worked with him at the University of Oklahoma and at Oregon State University. These former students, one of whom Dr. Callarman introduced as principal speaker, represent to Dr. Callarman, a resume of his 30 years in the teaching profession.

Next annual meeting will be held in the summer of 1962 in Kansas City, Kansas, where Dr. Callarman will be in charge of the programs.

Stanford Scholarship Pending U.S. Fare for Philippine Girl

Mrs. J.D. Barker of Canyon has brought an interesting and almost pathetic story to light this week regarding a Phillppine student whom she knows through letters.

Pricilla Lasmaria

Three years ago Mrs. Barker heard of Pricilla Lasmaria through the directors of Silliman University, a Presbyterian sponsered school in Dumaguete City, Philipine Islands. Since then, they have written regularly.

Pricilla has been an outstanding student in every way throughout college. She has been a leader in campus dramatics and an honor student. This March she graduated Magna Cum Laude, with a BA degree.

A month ago Mrs. Barker received an excited letter from Pricilla informing her that Stanford University in California had selected Pricilla for one of its eleven foreign student, all-paid scholarships for advanced study. Such an honor doesn't come often, nor to many people who have had to work so hard for an education.

Being a member of a large family and one that is limited financially, Pricilla knew that there would be problems regarding her transportation to the States, but she set to work. First she wrote to the Fulbright Committee on travel and asked for a grant. When she was informed that all grants had been filled for the year, she wrote to Stanford asking a year's postponment so that she could raise the needed $365 for a tourist passage to California.

The letter from Stanford arrived this week telling Pricilla that the school was not able to postpone the scholarship, and that if she were not there by September 1 they would have to consider the scholarship cancelled.

In her letter to Mrs. Barker today, Pricilla had this to say.

"Mrs. Barker, I feel that the Lord is opening up this opportunity for me to make use of. All through these years, I have let HIM run my life, and I believe that this once-in-a-lifetime chance to study abroad through the Stanford scholarship is part of His plan for me to serve Him. That is why I have decided that I must go this year, and will not give up working toward that end."

Mrs. Barker feels so strongly that an opportunity like the one offered to Pricilla should not go un-noted by those that would like to help, so she is asking that anyone who would like to help in this effort, contact her at OL5-3932 or write to her 1207 7th Avenue, Canyon.

Mrs. Carl Anderson, wife of the former Justice of Peace, recently visited with her husband's sister, Mrs. Frank Crawford, of Lafayette, Indiana. Mrs. Irlbeck of Happy accompanied her and visited with her daughter, Mrs. Ed Watson. They traveled by car for the 10 day visit.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dale Harter, Minister of the First Christian Church of Canyon, and their children, are away on a two weeks vacation trip to Mississippi, where they are guests of members of the Harter family.

RITA GRABBE, employee in the county clerk's office, paid her first visit this week to a catch-all records store room on the "fourth floor" of the courthouse. Records represent most offices of the courthouse and some are even from other sources. She is shown holding a tax redemption receipt book of 1940 vintage.

Old Records Relate Early County History

Early-day jury chambers at the main courthouse building have gradually been converted to a catch-all storage chamber for tomes of county history.

Rooms once reserved for jury men staying overnight are now lined with book cases containing records of the county from earliest days. These records have accumulated from all offices in the court house.

The seldom visited floor of courthouse is also a storage place for Christmas scenes, odd bits of furniture, clothing and text books.

The majority of records is made of tax rolls, tax receipts and chattel mortgage records.

But there are several types of records there which no longer exist.

Example of this is the "Occupation Tax Record."

Right after the turn of the century businessmen, professional men and "peddlers" paid a tax to work in the county. Not only a county tax, it also applied for the state.

Perhaps photographers were hardest hit. They paid a combined state-county tax of $15. Merchants paid only $4.50, peddlers, $5.65, dentists, $7.50 and lawyers, $1.88.

Another interesting record is the "Minutes of Scalp Accounts--Number 1."

First entry in the book is:
"J.M. Allred, November 14, 1912, $2 for 2 coyote wolves."
Last entry in "Scalp Accounts" is:
"G.L. Bowen, March 9, 1914, $1 for 1 coyote wolf."

In the first volume of brand registrations M.V. Kenny with his circle K was one of the first entries. It was dated October 8, 1889.

In earlier days, as now, the sheriff received a mileage allowance.

He was allowed 5 cents per mile to go to an arrest and 10 cents per mile upon return. This was in 1913. If he chose to go be rail the allowance was even more.

But perhaps the strangest item stored in the "attic" is a complete set of upper and lower dentures. There is no identification on the box.

Fate of the stored records? County clerk Tommy Lair says that's a good question.

"There are some of them that probably could be destroyed, but I hate to do it," he said. "And many of the records there do not even belong to this office."

"Why, I just read where some government bureau that reports on statistics says that electric service costs me only one and one-third cents out of each dollar that we spend at our house."

"Then I found out that the more hours I use Reddy Kilowatt — he's the electric servant, you know — the less he charges for each hour."

"You say your electric bill is higher? Oh, ours is, too, but we're using twice as many appliances as we did 10 years ago. Skillet, television, hair dryer, clothes dryer, why, those are just a few of our new ones. You're probably using a lot more appliances, too."

"On top of everything else, my Public Service neighbor told me the average hourly wage for that little fellow we were talking about, Reddy Kilowatt, is 21 percent lower than it was 10 years ago."

"I can't think of anything else that costs less today than it did in 1951. Can you?"

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

Mary Caballero

I wonder if we ever stop to think how many beautiful things we see every day. We see art work, which we either ignore or we take it for granted, as another worldly possession.

In museums, the general rule is "do not touch"---but we can look to our heart's content.

From Boston Associated Press comes this story: "Ten persons sat around a table at the Museum of Fine Arts examining small objects.

Said an elderly man: "Look at this. It's a cat protecting its kitten. Isn't this touching."

A little old lady wearing a flowered hat and dark glasses asked her neighbor: "Have you seen this one?"

What's unusual?

All 10 were blind.

The Museum Tuesday relaxed its "do not touch" rule so the blind could "see" some exhibits.

They "saw" stone, wooden, bronze, and ceramic objects, some more than 1,300 years old, such as statues of Buddha.

As the objects passed from hand to hand, they were explained by museum lecturers.

Milton Rosenblum, executive director of Boston Aid to the Blind, which sponsored the visit, explained "blindness does not put a person off from normal life interests. He can be just as interested in art, which means painting as well as sculpture, as anyone else."

Rosenblum pointed to an elderly Negro woman.

"That woman has been blind all her life but she recently made a ceramic elephant that was excellent. She'd never seen one but a vision of what one was like."

Most of the population seem to always be trying to keep ahead of the weeds, tall grass or other problems that beset the yard owner. I found this little gem in a Punch Magazine from England so I offer it to you! It is by Ronald Duncan.

"This is a silly season. Every post brings some seed catalogue in Technicolor which tries to persuade you that your garden should look like the photograph on the cover if only you would order a mountain of exotically named annuals, some patent fertilizer, and forget all about the fact that you no longer have a gardener. And as we sit now huddled over the fire in these drear January days, with nothing but the shuffling of Cabinets to relieve the monotony of winter, it is only too easy to indulge in daydreams of June blooms, and complete the seed merchants' order form. Even as I do so I know that I am wasting my time: some of the flowers will never be planted, none will be weeded, and those that do eventually bloom will certainly blush unseen. I'm careful not to order any bulbs; a friend of mine with a Hungarian cook found he had eaten his hyacinths. Perhaps it would be safer to order onions? At any rate, if one must be extravagant let it be with perennials only. At least these only have to be planted once. Annuals should be wholly avoided.

Personally I think the only happy gardener today is the one who can decide in his own mind that everything that grows is beautiful. After all, Picasso has told us that ugliness doesn't exist. From that dictum it is but a step to preferring nettles to roses, and to maintain that it was docks that you set out to cultivate, and the odd asters among them were something you overlooked in weeding. Tools and fertilizers won't produce a border half so beautiful as the one which the tolerant eye can achieve. Perhaps we should just dig our beds over and let the wind sow what it will? As a matter of fact I've always thought cow parsley was pretty, and I might have grown it deliberately if people hadn't told me it was a weed. How do they know? What is a weed but something which flourishes to spite us?

As for these insidious catalogues which tempt one to sow new lawns and do not refer to' the cost of lawn-mowers or the labour of using them, they should all be burnt. Why doesn't the seed merchant make up a light mixture of herbs and green mosses which would grow slowly and silently and never need be cut? I once trod barefooted on such a lawn. But there is no proof that it existed!"
